FRIDAY EVENING, FEBRUARY 11.

DEATH OF PROF. RICHARD M. SMITH.-We announce the sad intelligence of the death of Prof. Smith, of Randolph Macon College, which occurred on Tuesday at a quarter to six o'clock. He had been in very feeble heaith from the first of November until about three weeks since, when he began to improve very rapidly, and his friends cherished the fond hope that his eminently useful life would be spared for many years. But alas! how vain are our dearest hopes. On Friday he was very cheerful and in good spirits, and conversed with his family and triends in his parlor until 10 o'clock, when he retired for the night. At 4 o'clock he enquired of his wife the time of night; at 5 she awoke again and found him sitting up in bed. She spoke to him, but received no answer, she spoke again, but he gave no response. In alarm she hastily procured a light, and to her great dismay discovered that he was partially unconscious with entire paralysis of the vocal organs. He never recovered his speech, though he knew his family and triends almost to the last. Before death came to his relief paralysis of the right side occurred, and gradually he sank into the repose of the grave. - Richmond Christian Advocate.

"SPIRIT RAPPING."-This is the way the Fox girls produce their spiritual rappings: Fasten one end of a piece of clastic band, four or five inches long, to the middle of a pound bar of lead, and the other end to a ring large enough to receive the toe of your shoe. Take another piece of elastic band eight inches or more in length; fasten one end to the ring and the other to the right leg above the knee. When standing, with the contrivance arranged as described, the bar of lead should not come quite to the ankle. Of course, a long dress is necessary to conceal it. When sitting, the raps can be made by putting the toe of the left shoe through the ring, and with a slight movement of the foot causing the lead to strike the iloor. One end of the bar will be likely to come in con tact with the floor a little before the other end does, and thus produce the peculiar double knock made by the Fox mediums. By a slight lateral motion of the foot, raps can be made with such a contrivance on a table leg or a door. A gentleman walking home with one of the girls one evening after a seance, noticed a sound in connection with her step like that made by a wooden peg in walking; and the embarrassed girl said she could not conceive what caused it. --- per The time is approaching when it will be recessary for the people to look around for some suitable person to fill the important office of Mayor of the city of Alexandria. I have heard of several candi lates, and feel no dispo-ition, if I could, to disparage either of them in the eyes of this communite; but there is one gentleman whose name I have heard of in condecision with this office that I think the people ought to take into consideration, and east their votes for him. I mean JAMES W. NALLS. Mr. Nalls served the people of this city for many years as a Magistrate, without fee or reward, and also as one of our City Councilment, as a Magistrate no one ever called in question that old common law principle of "Do unto others as ye would they should do unto you" or, in other words, "Render unto Caesar the things that are Caesar's;" and that was done by Mr. Nalls without fear, favor or affection; T.
